Program Selection Guide

What program is right for my child?

Elite

Semi-annual, Year

Elite programs for the top U10-U19 players in Houston and the surrounding areas. This is the highest level of competition for the best players in Houston. Being a part of the elite program is more demanding than a competitive team. Players need to demonstrate the highest level of commitment to training & games for the entire year. Elite teams are formed with the highest ability players from the area.

Travel Program requires a year round commitment and allows players the opportunity to train with our nationally licensed professional coaching staff.

Advanced

Semi-annual, Year

The opportunity to play locally or regionally on a competitive level team. All training and games are conducted by a licensed Houstonians Soccer coach following our proven player development curriculum.

Teams are formed by gender & ability, following an evaluation session either during tryouts or at a camp or team session. The goal is to place each player in an environment that is suitably challenging but allows opportunities for success and confidence building.

Recreational

Fall, Spring

Enjoy a fun introduction to soccer, with skills training for players. Our first-class facilities are located in a supervised, safe environment, and we provide full-time office support as a service to all members.

This is a volunteer coach program. Each and every team requires at least one parent volunteer coach who receives training, resources, guidance and support from our team of full-time, dedicated, professional staff.

Private Lessons and Resources

Our Private Lessons are the ultimate accelerator for dedicated players, offering a highly personalized, one-on-one coaching environment that goes far beyond team practice.

The scope is surgically focused on the individual athlete, addressing specific needs like: first-touch refinement, advanced positional tactics, technical weaknesses (e.g., shooting mechanics), or confidence building that cannot be prioritized in a large group setting. Led by our most elite, highly certified coaches (USSF B/A level), these sessions provide immediate, high-quality feedback to ensure maximum skill acquisition and muscle memory development. Due to this intense personalization and the expertise required, the cost for private training typically ranges from $75 to over $150 per one-hour session, with package deals often available to reduce the per-session investment.
